

Artist Info

I am an artist (and mom to two young boys) living and working in Brooklyn. I paint out of a group studio space in DUMBO called Studio Milo where I am surrounded by fellow painters/artists and an amazing view of the Manhattan Bridge.

Most of my work is oil on canvas however I also paint/draw on paper and occasionally do some printmaking.

Circles are a main theme of my work. My paintings are spontaneous yet usually have a behind the scenes mathematical equation involved. I am a process painter and find painting circles very therapeutic. I love everything about the process of painting, from the paint, to the colors, to the canvas and mostly the actual action of paint on canvas.

Please note, this is a brand new site and is at it's beginning stages. Please stay tuned for more updates, images and information.